

The New Hampton Police Department is inviting members of the community to become involved in a new initiative called "I.C.E." (In Case of Emergency). This program is designed to provide emergency responders with information so that family members or friends can be notified in the event that the participant has a medical emergency.

I.C.E. is the initial program of the New Hampton Elderly Liaison Program (N.H.E.L.P.). This program is being created to identify and provide additional services to community members in the event of a weather emergency or evacuation.

It is the intent of these programs to continue to develop the partnership between the community, the elderly, as well as those citizens who live alone. These initiatives have come about as the result of recognizing a need after some of the recent, and past, weather events.

If you have any questions, would like to participate, or know anyone that might want to participate, in either of these programs, please contact Officer Monica Cunningham at the New Hampton Police Department, 744-5423.
